At John O'Gaunt uniform is an essential part of the school and one which develops our ethos. It creates a community, a sense of belonging and purpose for all students. Yellow slips are issued for one day whilst red are used in the short term. We operate a confiscation of items which do not follow school rules. We reserve the right to isolate students who do not follow the rules on uniform and dress.

With regards to mobile devices/headphones we do understand the need that students may need them when travelling to and from school. During school hours we will require that they are turned off and placed in bags. Mobile phones cannot be used in class. If a phone is being used or seen it will be confiscated, on the first occasion it can be collected at the end of the day by the student. The second time we will ask a parent to collect, if this continues on repeated occasions we will ask it be handed in at the start of the day and collected at the end by the student. On the rare occasion a mobile phone will be permitted to be used for clarification on homework or a parental number, permission will be given by a member of staff.

No responsibility can be taken for loss or theft of any items of uniform or jewellery, including mobile phones. It is essential that all items are marked with the owner's name.
